relegraphic Correspondence -Opinions of Senator Alcorn and Postmaster Pease.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 .- The following s a special dispatch sent by the Attorney General to Governor Ames, in response to his application for troops:

'United States forces have been put in readiness; no orders have yet been given for them to move—no Proclamation has yet been issued. Is there such an insurrection against the State Government as can not be put down by State military authority, aided by all other powers of the State Government and the aid of true citizens?'

necessary.
The Attorney General has sent to the President by special mossenger a full statement as far as advised, and will await his reply, which is expected tomorrow.

Attorney General Pierrepont then telegraphed to Governor Ames as follows: In my dispatch of yesterday morning, in which I mentioned that troops were held in readiness, I asked whether the situation of the insurrection was such against the State authorities that the State Government with the aid of loyal citizens could not put down. I have no reply to this.

The following is a copy of the telegram received by the Attorney General from senator Pease: The excitement has sub-sided; a civil force composed of good citizens of all political parties and of sufficient force to protect life and prop-erty, can be had in any county of the State. The Trustees of the Southern Railroad last saturday evening requested a meeting of leading citizens to be held to constact the propriety of asking Auditor Humphreys to place a levy of asking Aulitor Humphreys to place a levy of 4 milis on the tax-duplicate of 1815. A committee of ave, consisting of Oliver Perin, David Sinton, Will'am Gleon, A. D. Bullock and Henry Mack was appointed to wait upon Auditor Humphreys for the above purpose. This morning Au-litor Humphreys stated to the Star reporter that the petition of Council to place four milis upon the tax duplicate would be an unlawful act on his part if he should comply with the same, as it was in excess of the imitations of the statute. The City Council have levied an agraegate per centage cess of the finitations of the statute. The City Council have levied an agaregate per centage of twenty mills on the real and personal property of the city of Cincinnati, bling an excess of four mils over the limitations of the statute. The limitations of the statute laws arlow a maximum lawy of 16 mills for all corporate nurposes. The Auditor therefore declines to levy upon the tax duplicate of 1875 a tax levy exceeding sixteen mills. This, Auditor Humphreys makes it clearly understood, is not because he is acting antagonist, to the construction of the Southern Railway, but only because it is a violation of the laws of Ohio.

The Procession To-Day, and the Festivities at the Lookout House.

The National Feast of the Independent Order of Red Men took place to-day. The festivities were opened this morning by a grand procession, which formed on the corner of Thirteenth son, which formed on the corner of Thirteenth and Main, and then marched through the principal streets of our city as follows: From Thirteenth and Main south to North, on Ninth west to Wainut, south on Walnut to Fourth, west on Fourth to Race, on Race north to Liberty, on Liberty west to Western avenue, thence on McLean avenue to Harrison avenue, from Harrison avenue cast to Mohawk brilge and Hamilton road, on Hamilton road east to Main, on Main south to Orchard on Orchard east to Sycamore, whence to Monawk brilge and Hamilton road, on Hamilton road east to Main, on Main south to Orchard, on Orchard east to Sycamore, whence the procession marched to the Lookout House, where the festivities were colebrated. The procession presented a grand aspect with its many decorated wagons and buggies. The most noticeable among these were the following: A wagon illustrating the firstny of Monezuma and of Pocahoutas. A hand-omery decorated wagon with a representation of Columbus in a samp starting on his first voyage to discover America. A wagon with persons representing flumbolds and Schiller; another illustrating the treaty between Wm. Fenn and the Indians. These were followed by a vehicle occupied by a number of children, and a wagon with "Washington and Lincoln, the patriots of "America." A detachment of brechien of the Order dressed in indian costume followed the wagons, and the representatives of the chief branch of the Order rollowed. The procession was one of the largest that has ever been held by this association in this city, and was over half an hour in passing. At the Lookout flours the festivities were opened by a short introductory speech of welcome by Aayor Johnston.
